Alaa Abd el-Fattah is arguably the most high-profile political prisoner in Egypt, if not the Arab world, who has been imprisoned in Egypt for seven of the last eight years. Alaa rose to international prominence during the revolution of 2011 through his activism. Though imprisoned for most of the el-Sisi regime, he still managed to intermittently produce and smuggle essays out of prison. All these strands of work have been collected in You Have Not Yet Been Defeated: Selected Works, 2011-2021 (Seven Stories Press).

Sanaa Seif is an Egyptian filmmaker, producer and political activist. She has been imprisoned three times under the Sisi regime for her activism. She was released last December and is in the U.S. to promote her imprisoned brother, Alaa Abd el-Fattah's, newly published book

Sharif Abdel Kouddous is an independent journalist based in Cairo. He has reported from across the Arab world for a number of print and broadcast outlets and is currently an editor and reporter at Mada Masr, Egypt's leading independent media outlet.
